

Real Estate

Niles, Barton & Wilmer, LLP real estate attorneys work with a range of local, national and international clients to deliver timely and cost-effective real estate solutions. Real Estate Department attorneys represent developers, lenders, investors, property owners and managers, brokers, and design professionals on a broad array of transactions including leasing, financing, purchase & sale, due diligence, and related matters. We counsel out-of-state lenders on deal structures to minimize recordation and transfer taxes where possible and provide sophisticated opinion letters covering a variety of real estate financings. We are trusted counsel to numerous condominium and homeowners associations for advice and support, and work closely with our litigation team to provide a full range of real estate-related litigation and dispute resolution services.
